ChatGPT Is Banned in Italy Over Privacy Concerns

 nytimes.com/2023/03/31/technology/chatgpt-italy-ban.html March 31, 2023

The artificial intelligence tool ChatGPT was temporarily banned in Italy on Friday, the first known instance of the chatbot being blocked by a government order.

Italy's data protection authority said OpenAI, the California company that makes ChatGPT, unlawfully collected personal data from users and did not have an age-verification system in place to prevent minors from being exposed to illicit material.

Italy is the first government to ban ChatGPT as a result of privacy concerns. In China, North Korea, Russia and Iran, the service is unavailable because OpenAI decided not to make it accessible.

Italy's decision is a sign of the policy challenges emerging for the developers of cutting-edge A.I. after the release of ChatGPT. The program has dazzled users with its ability to draft essays, engage in humanlike conversations and perform more complex tasks like writing computer code, but it has raised alarms about the spread of misinformation, the effects on employment and broader risks to society.

This week, more than 1,000 technology leaders and researchers called for a moratorium on development of the most advanced A.I. systems so that safety policies could be put in place. The Center for A.I. and Digital Policy, an advocacy group pushing for the ethical use of technology, has asked the U.S. Federal Trade Commission to block OpenAI from releasing new commercial versions of ChatGPT.

In Italy, regulators have told OpenAI to block internet users in the country from gaining access to ChatGPT until the company turns over additional information. The company has 20 days to provide the agency with the material and possible remedies before a final decision can be made about the future of the product in the country.

Regulators cited a March 20 data breach that exposed conversations and the payment details of some users. The agency said OpenAI could be fined up to 20 million euros (about $22 million) or 4 percent of its worldwide annual revenue.

In a statement, OpenAI said it had disabled ChatGPT for users in Italy and that it was committed to protecting people's privacy.

"We actively work to reduce personal data in training our A.I. systems like ChatGPT because we want our A.I. to learn about the world, not about private individuals," the company said. "We also believe that A.I. regulation is necessary."

As of 5 p.m. on Friday in Italy, word had not yet reached the chatbot that it would be blocked in the country. When asked by a user there if it would be banned in Italy because of privacy concerns, ChatGPT replied, "There should be no concerns."

"I am an artificial intelligence language model that can be accessed from anywhere in the world as long as there is an internet connection," the chatbot said.

P what are some alternatives to guardianship?

R There are several alternatives to guardianship that can be considered depending on the individual's needs and circumstances. These include:

1. General Financial Power of Attorney: This document allows an individual to appoint someone else (an agent) to make financial decisions on their behalf, such as managing bank accounts or paying bills. The power of attorney becomes effective immediately upon signing, but can be made durable so that it remains in effect even if the principal becomes incapacitated.
2. Health Care Power of Attorney: Also known as a Medical Durable Power of Attorney or Advance Directive, this document allows an individual to appoint someone else (an agent) to make medical decisions on their behalf when they are unable to do so themselves due to illness or injury. This can include consenting to medical treatments and procedures, deciding on the level of care received in a healthcare facility, and making end-of-life choices.
3. Revocable Living Trust: A revocable living trust is created by an individual while they are still competent and allows them to transfer their assets into the trust for management during their lifetime. Upon incapacity or death, a successor trustee takes over responsibility for managing the trust according to the terms of the document. This can provide a smoother transition in handling financial matters without the need for guardianship.
4. Supported Decision-Making: This is an alternative approach that focuses on helping individuals with disabilities make their own decisions by providing them with necessary supports and accommodations, rather than appointing someone else to make those decisions for them. It emphasizes self-determination and autonomy while ensuring the individual's safety and well-being.
5. Representative Payee: For individuals who are unable to manage their own finances due to a disability or other circumstances, Social Security Administration can appoint a representative payee to handle these matters on their behalf. This person is responsible for managing the beneficiary's funds according to established guidelines and reporting to SSA about how those funds were used.

It is important to consult with an attorney experienced in estate planning and elder law when considering alternatives to guardianship, as each individual's situation may be different and require a tailored approach.

CL

what are some alternatives to guardianship?

People's Law Library January 2024

In Maryland, a guardian should only be appointed if there are no less restrictive alternatives available. During court guardianship proceedings, the court will determine whether a less restrictive alternative is available. Therefore, it's important to consider alternatives prior to beginning guardianship proceedings.

However, the specific document does not list these alternatives in detail. For more comprehensive information, it would be necessary to refer to additional resources or legal texts.

Mistral OpenOrca

P my son is 8 years old. how can i change his name?

R To change your son's name, you will need to follow the legal process of petitioning the court for a name change. Here are the steps involved:

1. Complete and file a Petition for Name Change with your local court clerk. This document should include information about yourself, your child, and the reason for the desired name change. If your son is 10 years old or older, he must consent to the name change; if younger than 10 but objects to it, this should be included in the petition.
2. The court clerk will issue a notice of the petition for name change. This notice, along with a copy of the petition and any attachments, must be served on each parent who does not consent to the name change. The notice will state that any objections to the name change should be filed within a specified time period (usually 20-30 days).
3. If both parents agree to the name change:
 - For children under one year old, you can proceed with the name change without further court involvement. However, it is recommended that you file an Affidavit of Parentage and Acknowledgment of Paternity or Voluntary Acknowledgment of Parentage to establish legal parent-child relationships.
 - For children one year old or older but still a minor: If both parents consent to the name change, they should sign an Affidavit of Consent for Minor Child's Name Change and submit it with your petition. The court will then review the submitted documents and may schedule a hearing if necessary.
 - After the waiting period (usually 30 days), if there are no objections or further issues, the judge will approve the name change, and you can obtain an Order for Name Change to officially change your son's name.
4. If one parent objects to the name change: The process becomes more complex as it may require a court hearing to resolve any disputes. In this case, it is recommended that you consult with an attorney experienced in family law and name changes.

Remember to follow all local laws and regulations when changing your child's name. Additionally, be prepared to provide documentation supporting the reason for the desired name change (e.g., adoption, marriage, etc.).

To change the name of your 8-year-old son, you need to file a petition for a name change in the Maryland circuit court. This should be done in the county where your son resides, or where you or another guardian or custodian of your son lives. It's important to note that a name change cannot be requested for any fraudulent or illegal purpose.

To change the name of your 8-year-old son, you will need to file a petition for name change in the Maryland Circuit Court in the county where your son is a resident, or where you, as a parent, guardian, or custodian, live. The petition must include a statement explaining why the name change is in the best interest of your son, the name and address of each parent and any guardian or custodian of your son, and whether each of those persons consents to the name change. Additionally, the preference of your son is important. If he is 10 years old or older, he must consent to the name change. If he is younger than 10 and objects to the name change, that information must be included in the petition. You will also need to attach a copy of your son's birth certificate or other documentation confirming his current name, as well as written consent from each parent, guardian, or custodian, or an explanation of why consent is not attached. If you are unable to obtain their consent, you may request that the court seal the case record so that confidential information is not accessible. If the petition states that a nonconsenting parent, guardian, or custodian is unfamiliar with English, the court clerk will issue the notice in the language identified in the petition or will attach a multilingual advisement form to the notice. If there are objections to the name change, the court will hold a hearing. The court may not enter an order on the petition earlier than 30 days from the date that the notice was received by parents, guardians, or custodians for whom consent has not been received.

Fwd: [EXTERNAL] Temp dns entries for testing Gtranslate

 Summary by Copilot X

You and Pat Pathade discussed the implementation of GTranslate on the Peoples Law Library website.

You and Clifford Hoffman III provided feedback on the language selector, mobile view, and the addition of a disclaimer link.

You requested the addition of all languages supported by GTranslate and the ability to specify the order of available languages in the drop-down menu.

Pat Pathade worked on fixing the issues and provided updates on the progress.

Fantail Consulting & Technologies LLC will bill for the additional hours of work for setting up the DNS entries.

The main Outlook window displays a draft email. The "From" field shows "From: cls.sampson@live.com". The "To" field is empty. Below it, there's a placeholder "Add a subject". On the right side of the email header, there are "Cc" and "Bcc" buttons, and a note indicating "Draft saved at 2:29 PM".

A context menu is open over the Copilot icon in the ribbon, listing two options:

- Draft with Copilot
- Coaching by Copilot

A modal dialog box titled "Draft with Copilot" is open in the foreground. It contains the text "What do you want this email to say?" and a "Generate →" button. There is also a small icon of a person with a speech bubble in the bottom-left corner of the modal.
